

Help Support Gear Up with Our 4th Annual Bowl-a-thon

April 12, 2019

Who we are

Gear Up Homeschoolers is a non-profit secular homeschool co-op. We offer enrichment programs to students throughout central and western New Hampshire. Our mission is to provide alternative education options with as low a cost as possible so every family has the opportunity to participate.

What we do

Every Friday during the "school" year, we run 2-3 sessions of classes for students in elementary through high school.

We also have a safe play space for younger children. In addition, we offer more intensive classes on varying subjects that are held once a week. For example, this past year the students enjoyed Spanish, Physics, and Drawing taught by professionals in their respective fields.

We also open up for Game Night once a month during the fall and winter. Once spring and summer arrive, we open for Game Night once a week.

How we do it

We are completely run by volunteers. Our board of directors are all homeschooling parents who donate their time and other resources to keep us running smoothly. Most of the teaching is also done by member volunteers. Without them there would be no Gear Up.

Most years we have one or two fundraising events to raise enough to cover our operating costs. We purposely keep our costs low so we don't overburden members with fees or never ending fundraising.

How you can help

Since we only do limited fundraising, every penny we get counts! All donations are also tax deductible. If you'd like to support the bowl-a-thon, contact the member who gave you this flyer or make a donation at:
